

Rate the extent to which you believe the scenarios to be prejudiced. 0 is 'NOT AT ALL'. 9 is 'UNQUESTIONABLY PREJUDICED. STICK WITH YOUR FIRST RESPONSE

Scenario 1

Someone says to a female Muslim colleague: "I have never felt comfortable to ask anyone before but why is it that even British Asian women don't wear normal clothes?"

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

Scenario 2

Carl, who is White, is celebrating his 40th birthday and invites an ethnically diverse group of friends to his house party. Valerie (who is Black) attended wearing a Black Lives Matter t shirt. The atmosphere is convivial however on the third time of a situation occurring, Valerie told Carl she had had enough and was leaving. She said that a White friend of Carl's had on three occasions looked at her t shirt, looked her straight in the face, shook his head and huffed, never saying hello or offering a smile once.

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

Scenario 3

During a mental health assessment of a Pakistani Muslim young man the family described that the young man as follows ".....he began acting strange, going out with White girls and drinking" During the discussion one of the professionals said "I've dealt with these families before. They are known to blow things up (he then winked) out of proportion".

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

Scenario 4

A newly qualified social worker called a community organisation that supports asylum seekers and refugees with No Recourse to Public Funds and opened with "I understand you support illegal immigrants with no recourse to public funds? Is that right?...."

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

Scenario 5

One of the white managers was heard to say, "I think all the Black Lives Matter stuff has made things worse; we used to all just get on here and now everything is about race".

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---